

2017 Fall Kick-off Retreat September 15, 2017

"FINDING YOUR PLACE IN TODAY'S WORLD"

Faculty, students, and staff - you're invited!

This annual retreat is FREE and open only to Indiana Campus Compact partner campuses.

This year's opening keynote address from Exodus Refugee Immigration is an overview of refugee resettlement in the U.S. and the ways communities can welcome and support newcomers, with a focus on how campuses can be involved.

Track one is a deep-dive, day-long workshop from renown service-learning pioneer and social justice activist Nadine Cruz on renewing the risk-taking vision and values of best principles of service-learning and community engagement and embedding them into actionable work.

Track two consists of four peer-led community conversations about sensitive topics connected to the work of service-learning and community engagement. Topics include:

- Geographies of Equity
- Globalizing Indiana
- Civil (In)Tolerance
- Fostering Civil Discourse.

Track three consists of student-friendly programming which will leave students and student affairs professionals with a renewed sense of purpose and concrete steps to get there. The program will include:

- Bias Awareness Training
- An Introduction to the Campus Vote Project
- The 'Spark' that Ignites Social Innovation: A Changemaker Panel Discussion
- Finding Your Purpose via Your Hustle
