

Campus Compact

Indiana

7th ANNUAL SERVICE ENGAGEMENT SUMMIT CALL FOR PROPOSALS

The Indiana Campus Compact Service Engagement Summit is our signature event which provides our members the opportunity to hear the brightest speakers, participate in the most thought-provoking and useful workshops, and create programming that will have a lasting impact on our society for years to come.

We will focus on the role of social justice in higher education through the lens of power, privilege, and the coming together of communities. We seek proposals for presentations on February 28, 2017, that reflect that focus for the 7th Annual Service Engagement Summit, which will be held in Indianapolis, IN, February 27-28, 2017.

Day 1 (February 27) of the Summit will start at 1:00 PM ET and feature:

- Deep Dive Sessions from: Eric Hartman (Kansas State University & GlobalSL.org); the Indiana Chamber of Commerce, the National Society for Experiential Education, Hanover College, and Indiana Campus Compact; and The Center for Civic Reflection.
- Awards Gala with cocktail reception, dinner, and a keynote address by Kimberly Dark, an award winning writer, storyteller, performer, and speaker who helps audiences discover that we are creating the world, even as it creates us.

Day 2 (February 28) of the Summit will start at 9:15 AM ET and will feature:

- Keynote address by Ashley C. Ford, writer, editor, teacher, and speaker who is currently co-editing the anthology Not That Bad: Dispatches from Rape Culture with Roxane Gay.
- Presentations from college and university faculty, staff, and students from across the country.

We seek the following presentation types:

- Workshop/Interactive Presentation – 50 minutes. May be an individual presenter or a group presentation. Presenters should be prepared to offer dynamic presentations related to higher education's role in social justice, which will encourage creative thought, followed by a structured set of facilitated activities for audience participation.
- Poster presentation – 50 minutes. Attendees are free to move about the room and examine posters and talk individually to the authors. The free-standing posters should use data, text, and images/figures to describe the research or project related to higher education's role in social justice. Please plan to narrate your poster to interested attendees in order to facilitate discussion and networking. Poster presenters may bring supporting material to distribute to attendees.
- New this year - Roundtable Resource Exchange – 15 minute discussion, repeated three times within a 50 minute session allowing participants to rotate through topics of discussion. This informal format is an opportunity to present innovative research activities, teaching techniques, curriculum designs, syllabi, or training manuals. Preference will be given to presenters who focus on higher education's role in social justice. Presenters are encouraged to facilitate the session in a way that provides information as well as stimulates a discussion and are encouraged to bring handouts, brochures, or display copies of manuals.

Who should submit:

- Upper level administrators (Department Chairs, Deans, Provosts)
- Faculty
- Staff
- Graduate Students
- Undergraduate Students
- Community partners

Submissions should include:

- Presentation type
- Secondary choice for presentation type
- Presentation Title
- Presenter(s) information (name, professional title – if student, please list major or program, institution, and email address)
- Abstract (not to exceed 300 words)
- Session description for program (no more than 75 words)
- Please address your learning outcomes for the audience in your abstract by including and finishing the sentence, “After attending this session, participants will...”
- Please consider your learning outcomes when you choose your Intended audience below – please check no more than two.
 - Upper level administrators
 - Faculty
 - Professional Staff
 - Students
 - Community Agency Directors/Staff

Deadline for submissions: November 11, 2016

Presenters will be notified of acceptance: December 15, 2016

Please direct questions to Liza Blomquist, Indiana Campus Compact Director of Communication and Outreach at eldnewma@iupui.edu or 317-274-6500.